 Our Global Presence

Latin America

SembCorp Marine operates the Mauá Jurong Shipyard, which is strategically located in Guanabara Bay, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. This positions us closer to the offshore and conversion markets of the Gulf of Mexico, South America and the West African region.

North America

Through strategic partner Kuehne & Nagel, SembCorp Logistics' global supply chain network is extended to North America. Its presence spans throughout Canada, Mexico and the United States.

Europe

SembCorp Utilities expanded its presence to Europe with the strategic acquisition of the assets and business of Enron Teesside

Operations in 2003. SembCorp Utilities UK substantially increases SembCorp Utilities' overseas activities, in line with its strategy to derive an increasing proportion of revenue from outside Singapore.

Through its UK-based engineering consulting firm SembCorp Simon-Carves, SembCorp Engineers and Constructors' presence extends to the United Kingdom, enhancing its capability mix to provide services in the process and plant engineering industry worldwide.

SembCorp Logistics is in a global partnership with Switzerland-based Kuehne & Nagel. The combined partnership has a global supply chain network of 700 locations in about 100 countries and more than 20,000 employees.

Asia-Pacific

In addition to our Singapore-based operations, our presence also extends to other countries in the Asia-Pacific:

SembCorp Utilities operates cogeneration plants in Australia, China and Vietnam. In 2003, SembCorp Utilities established its presence in two of China's major petrochemical parks with a wastewater treatment plant in Nanjing Chemical Industrial Park and a cogeneration plant in Shanghai Chemical Industrial Park. Its offshore engineering division, SMOE, has subsidiary and associate companies operating in Malaysia, Indonesia and China.

SembCorp Engineers and Constructors began operating in China in 1998. It is responsible for some notable commercial, residential and industrial building projects there and its joint-venture company in Shanghai is accredited with a Class A licence, which enables it to undertake projects of any size or complexity.

SembCorp Environmental Management's Australian associate company, SITA Environmental Solutions is the second largest environmental management company in Australia. In 2003, SembCorp Environmental Management set up a joint venture with Shanghai Sincere to tap into China's waste collection business. It also has another joint venture with Consolidated Plantations, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sime Darby, to design, build, own and operate a biomass waste-to-energy plant in Malaysia.

SembCorp Logistics is Asia's largest integrated service provider with operations spanning Australia, Azerbaijan, China (including Hong Kong), India, Indonesia, Japan, Malaysia, Myanmar, Singapore, Sri Lanka, South Korea, Taiwan, Thailand and United Arab Emirates.

Through its joint-venture company, Shenzhen ST-Anda Logistics, SembCorp Logistics is one of the leading supply chain management companies in China. Its dominant network covers more than 850 locations in 31 provinces.

– SembCorp Logistics India has a pan-India presence spanning four logistics centres, 39 depots and one million square feet of warehouse space.

– In 2003, SembCorp Logistics expanded into South Korea and completed its acquisition of Footwork Express in Japan, further expanding its pan-Asian network.

SembCorp Marine has a strong presence in the Asia-Pacific, with its Singapore operations firmly supported by Karimun Sembawang in Indonesia, and Dalian COSCO Marine Engineering in China. With a network of strategically located shipyards, SembCorp Marine provides service hubs along major shipping waters globally.
