

Sembcorp is in the business of providing products and services that are essential in nature.

From meeting the critical energy, water and centralised utilities needs of industries and households to providing reliable marine and offshore solutions for the oil and gas industry, our continued relevance is the bedrock on which our long-term resilience is built.